Information on the Notes

Merrill Lynch & Co., Inc. (the "Issuer") has issued Accelerated Return Notes ("Notes") linked to the S&P 500 Index (the "Index"). The Notes were priced at $10 each and mature on August 27, 2009.

The Notes are senior, unsecured debt securities of the Issuer that provide a leveraged return for investors, subject to a cap, if the level of the Index increases moderately from the Starting Value of the Index, determined on June 10, 2008, the date the Notes were priced for initial sale to the public (the "Pricing Date"), to the Ending Value of the Index, determined on Calculation Days shortly prior to the maturity date of the Notes. Investors must be willing to forego interest payments on the Notes and willing to accept a return that is capped or a repayment that is less, and potentially significantly less, than the original public offering price of the Notes.

At maturity, investors will receive per Note:

- If the Ending Value is greater than the Starting Value:
$$$10 + [30 \times ((\text{Ending Value} - \text{Starting Value}) / \text{Starting Value})]$$
- If the Ending Value is less than the Starting Value:
$$$10 \times (\text{Ending Value} / \text{Starting Value})$$

The Starting Value of the Index is 1358.44. The Ending Value will be determined near the maturity date.

Please see the prospectus for the Notes for more details regarding the calculations.

It is expected that the market value of the Notes will depend substantially on the value of the Index and may be affected by a number of other interrelated factors including, among other things: the general level of interest rates, the volatility of the Index, the time remaining to maturity, the dividend yield of the stocks comprising the Index, and the credit ratings of the Issuer.
